TALKS HISTORY AT WATERWAYS MEET

In Address at New London Taft Speaks on Waterway Improvement

REFERS TO THE CANAL BILL

The President is Still Suffering From Lame Ankle and Has to Support Himself With Cane—Political Conference.

New London, Conn., Sept. ...—From the grass grown ramparts of Old Fort Griswold, President Taft today discussed American history, with Benedict Arnold as a text, to the delegates to the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Convention. After disposing of Arnold, who once led an attack on Fort Griswold, as the "greatest traitor of all times," the President discoursed on waterways improvement and the Panama Canal bill.

He said that the question of the violation of treaty rights by the bill should be thoroughly examined before "calling names or siding against one's own country."

President Taft came ashore here at noon with Mrs. Taft and several members of his party who had come over from New York on the Mayflower. Mr. Hilles, Mr. Sheldon, treasurer of the National Republican Committee and Chas. P. Taft, brother of the President, did not come ashore. In answer to a question as to whether there had been a political conference on board the President said he had no statement to make.

The President, with his ankle bound up, used a cane in walking from the boat landing to the automobile. A little later at a reception in the hotel at which nearly a thousand persons shook hands, the President was seated in order to favor his ankle.

While he spoke at Fort Griswold he supported himself with his cane. From the fort the Presidential party was driven to the Griswold dock and then boarded the Mayflower, which weighed shortly before 6 o'clock and sailed for Beverly.

Railroad Conference Will Determine Wage Increase.

Washington, Sept. 6.—Whether the 15,000 or more trainmen on the railroads east of the Mississippi and south of the Ohio river will succeed in their demand for a wage increase probably will be determined at conferences here tomorrow between representatives of the railroad and the trainmen. All day today the battle for the increase was fought over the conference table in the Southern Railway Building without conclusion.

The increase sought averages about 16 per cent, and is pressed in behalf of all the Southern and Southwestern railroads except the Louisville & Nashville, the Cheapeake & Ohio and the Virginia Railways, which are dealing with separate groups of men.

BULL MOOSE STILL ROAMING

Roosevelt Stumps North Dakota—Progressive State C... ion Hears Him—Divides ... Into Two Clas...

Library of Congress

Jamestown, N. D., Sept. 6.—The voters of the country were divided into two classes by Col. Roosevelt in his speech today.

They were those with and those against the Progressive party. The man against it, however, sincerely he may think he is progressive in politics, he said, "is the ally of Wall Street, the ally of privilege, the ally of bossism."

Coming into North Dakota, which Senator LaFollette carried in the primaries preceding the Republican National Convention, Col. Roosevelt made a particular effort to win over supporters of Progressive principles from the Republican and Democratic candidates. He criticised Woodrow Wilson in regard to the progressive proposal for an inter-State industrial commission to regulate large corporations.

Col. Roosevelt was whirled across North Dakota by special train. He made half a dozen stops and tonight was on his way to Montana. He stopped for an hour in Grand Forks this morning, put in most of the afternoon in Fargo and tonight made a brief address at Jamestown.

In Fargo Col. Roosevelt spoke first at Island Park to an audience largely composed of farmers. The Progressive State Convention was in session in Fargo and the delegates went to the park to hear him. Later, he made an address in the convention hall.

"I particularly call the attention of North Dakota" he said in his speech at Island Park, "to similaities between the situation now and in 1834. At that time a number of Republican learders—the Republican leaders of the day including Fremont, the first Republican candidate for the Presidency and Wendell Phillips, a leader in the anti-slavery cause, were so discontented with Lincoln and certain actions of the mass of their fellow progressives that they actually proposed to run a third ticket against Lincoln, and when this effort failed many of them stood sullenly aloof and either supported no one or went against Lincoln.

"Now the same kind of thing is being done by these men today, who claim to be progressives and yet fail to support the Progressive ticket. If a man is not with us he is against us and if he is against us he is siding with the reactionaries. No matter how well meaning he may be ,no matter how sincerely he may think he is a Progressive, he is the ally of Wall Street, the ally of privilege, the ally of bossism in politics unless he heartily and in good faith supports the Progressive party.

"This is not a question of personalities. The principles of the Progressives have been embodied in their plat form, but the representatives of the Progressive party have nominated two men to act for the moment as their standard bearers. The only way to support these principles and the platform is to support the men who are the nominees of the Progressive party."

TAFT MEN LOSE.

Denied Injunction Against Roosevelt Electors in Kansas.

Topeka, Kan., Sept. 6.—The Roosevelt Presidential electors won another round in the legal battle to get them off the Republican ticket in Kansas today.

Judge W. H. Sanborn, of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, denied the injunction asked by the supporters of President Taft's candidacy to prohibit the names of the eight Roosevelt electors being placed on the Republican ticket in the general elections in November. The case was argued Monday in Denver, and the written decision of Judge Sanborn was received here late today.

The case was brought three weeks ago. D. R. Hite, attorney for the Taft followers, went to Red Oak, Iowa, and obtained a temporary restraining order. The Taft supporters asked that Charles Sessions, Secretary of State, be restrained from certifying to the county clerks over the State the names of the Roosevelt electors nominated at the primary election.

INSPECTOR HAYES PLACED ON TRIAL

...ceedings Transformed Into Probe of Gaynor's Vice Policy

WALDO GRILLED BY ATTORNEY

Tried to Show "Outward Decency" Was Criterion by Which Mayor Wished Vice Suppression to Be Determined.

New Yorw, Sept. 6.—Whether Police Commissioner Waldo gave "general instructions" to suppress disorderly houses, and private verbal orders to allow them to run as long as conditions of "outward decency" were observed, became the question at issue today when Cornelius G. Hayes, suspended inspector, was placed on trial before deputy Police Commissioner Douglas I. McKay, on the charge of making a false statement in regard to his police duties.

While Hayes was ostensibly the defendant,, Thomas D. Thacher, Hayes' counsel, virtually transformed the trial into a probe of the Police Department and an arraingment of the policy of Mayor Gaynor toward the regulation of vice.

The attorney grilled Commissioner Waldo in an effort to show that "outward decency" was the critierion by which the mayor wished the question of vice suppression to be determined and then put Hayes on the stand to prove that the commissioner had given the insupector verbal orders in pursuance of this policy and had not countermanded them until they had become public. Hayes emphatically denied that he had made a false statement when he told the commissioner the latter had ordered him not to make raids on disorderly houses except on the commissioner's instructions.

Telegrams have been sent to Democratic committeemen and merchants in all States, and efforts will be made to obtain a large enrollment of prominent merchants and business men. After this is accomplished a day will be set for the simultaneous parades.

Mr. McAdoo announced today that the plan for gathering popular contributions to the campaign fund through the banks has been a success. He said 1,818 banks have notified him that they will accept contributions for all parties and only 10 banks have refused.

RAISING SUBSTANTIAL FUND

South Carolinians Respond to Call and Come Across With Contributions To Finance Election Investigation

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 6.—The general call of John Gary Evans, chairof the State Democratic executive committee yesterday for funds to conduct the investigation of alleged election frauds and for all information of fraud that came under the knowledge of the voters, is already bearing fruit. The call was not made until yesterday afternoon, but the fund is already substantial and it is believed that it will soon become large enough to conduct the entire investigation.

Some of the late information of fraud in the election is startling. From counties where there was no rumor of fraud are now reported specific instances where the ballot was debauched. Darlington and Greenwood counties are the latest to unearth scandals. In Greenwood county one of the boxes had twenty-four more votes in it than there were names on the registration list, another box had 18 and still another ten more than should have been in them. The lists have not been revised in some years and this indicates that the number of fraudulent votes may be two or three times as great as the excess vote shows on the face of the figures. In Darlington it was found that 58 names appeared on the list in the voting precincts that were not on the registration list and in many instances one man was allowed to vote more than once. Judge Jones has contested the vote of every county in the State and judging from the recent disclosures, irregularities may be found in each.

SIMMONS IN CHARLOTTE

Senior Senator Will Speak There Next Thursday Night

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 6.—Hon. Furnifold M. Simmons, senior United States Senator from North Carolina and now a candidate for re-election to that office, will open his campaign in Charlotte Thursday night of next week, September 12th.

A telegram to this effect was received in the city last night. The news it conveys is of the keenest interest to the voters of Charlotte and the surrounding counties.

Senator Simmons is now at his home on his farm near Newbern, where he has been recuperating since the recent term of Congress, having arrived at his home last week. It is not known here what further campaign plans the Senator has made, except that he proposes to proceed from Charlotte on a Statewide canvass, meeting as many people as time and his physical condition will permit him to meet.

SHOWING CONSPIRACY.

Nine Witnesses Examined at Trial of Victor Allen.

Wytheville, Va., Sept. 6.—The cross-examination of Dexter Goad was completed this morning when court convened in the trial of Victor Allen, and when adjournment was taken late this afternoon nine other witnesses had been examined. Most of the witnesses today were members of the Carroll county jury, which last March found Floyd Allen guilty of interfering with an officer and sentenced him to the penitentiary. All of the evidence today had been given at the other Allen trials, and none of it directly connected Victor Allen with the shooting, but tended to show the conspiracy charged by the State.

Stampeded Convention Nominates Its Chairman for Governorship

JACK M'GEE MAN OF HOUR

Starts Demonstration for Former Roosevelt Secretary and the Convention Goes Wild—Straus Accepts

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 6.—Oscar S. Straus, former Secretary of Commerce and Labor in the cabinet of President Roosevelt, was unanimously acclaimed the nominee for Governor of the Progressive party by a stampeded convention this afternoon.

Mr. Straus' nomination came about under conditions that were not only unexpected, but dramatic. The former cavinet member, acting as the convention's permanent chairman, was about to entertain a motion from former Lieut. Gov. Timothy L. Woodruff to order the roll call on the names of State Chairman William H. Hotchkiss and Comptroller Wm. A. Prendergast, of New York, when a delegate from New York county leaped to his chair and demanded to be heard.

"Its Suspender Jack McGee," cried a voice from the gallery. Chairman Straus looked puzzled. McGee, who got his name in the Indian country by riding a broncho into camp with suspenders used as reins, moved resolutely toward the platform.

Chairman Straus looked with surprise on the man who, with a flaming bandana swathed around his neck and his coat blazing with badges, tossed his rough rider hat on the floor and demanded the right to make a nomination.

Delegates and spectators booed and jeered as he began to speak. But 'Suspender Jack" only waved his arm in defiance of the jeers. He paused a moment and then cried:

"I nominate the illustrious and honorable Oscar S. Straus."

The delegates seemed stunned, then a few of them cheered. Mr. Straus gave an amused laugh at "Suspender Jack" bowing before him. McGee kept on with his speech and the first few faint cheers from the half dozen or more delegates gradually grew into a pandemonium that swept the convention hall from end to end. Standards were wrenched from the supports and delegates, yelling and cheering for Chairman Straus paraded the aisles, turning the convention into a bedlam.

Chairman Straus at first shook his head deprecatingly at the growing ovations. He turned to friends and remarked: "This must not be; I cannot accept."

Chairman Hotchkiss left his seat and urged Straus to accept.

Scores of delegates pushed toward the platform to urge Mr. Straus to make the decision. Then Mr. Hotchkiss burst from the group that surrounded Mr. Straus and held up before the crush of excited delegates a sheet of yellow paper on which was written:

"He accepts."

Quickly the word was passed back through the hall and another demonstration followed. All other nominations were withdrawn. Then came a flood of speeches seconding the nomination of the former minister to Turkey.

"Suspender Jack" McGee was not lost sight of. Delegates pressed about him and proclaimed him "the man of the hour." Later the convention passed a vote of thanks to Delegate McGee of the 15th assembly district, for nominating Mr. Straus.

When the convention had recovered and Mr. Straus had been chosen unanimously, he was called on for a speech and tendered an ovation as he formally accepted the nomination.

At tonight's session, the convention quieted down and the other candidates were nominated by a rising vote. The complete ticket was:

Governor—Oscar S. Strauss.

Lieutenant Governor—Former State Senator Frederick M. Davenport, Onelda.

Associate Judge of Court of Appeals—Carlos C. Alden, Buffalo, and Geo. W. Kirchway, Columbia University.

Secretary of State—Homer S. Call, Syracuse.

State Comptroller—Horatio C. King, Brooklyn.

Attorney General—John Palmieri, Brooklyn.

State Treasurer—Ernest Cawcroft, Jamestown.

State Engineer—O. M. Leland, Ithaca.

AMERICANS ENDANGERED

Governor of Sonora Orders Troops to Relief of Nacozari

Mexico City, Sept. 6.—Governor Maytorena, of Sonora, has advised the minister of the interior that he has ordered a detachment of troops to the relief of Nacozari, where the lives of a number of Americans have been endangered by rebel attacks.

Walter Douglas, president of the Nacozari Mining Company, had telegraphed Gov. Maytorena, decharing that if th eMexican government was unable to afford relief for the Americans at Nacozari, his company would take steps in that direction.

U. S. TROOPS FIGHT REBELS

Third Cavalry Engages Mexicans Who Cross the International Border At Hachita, N. M.—One Rebel Captured

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 6.—Reports of a skirmish between United States troops and rebels who crossed the international line below Hatchita, N. M., were received today by General E. Z. Steever at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Mexican rebels engaged 15 men of the Third Cavalry, according to the official report, and one rebel was captured. An hour later a strong body of rebels crossed the line but were driven into Mexico by the American soldiers after fighting at long range.

The entrance of Mexican rebels into the United States and the subsequent engagement with United States troops below Hachita, N. M., as reported today by Gen. E. Z. Steever at Fort Bliss, Texas, marks the sixth invasion of American soil in the last few weeks.

It is probable that the border patrol along the Sonora line will be strengthened, say officials at Fort Bliss., from where Gen. Steever commands the department of Texas, as well as the Arizona and New Mexico border, adjacent. At present there are only three troops of the Third Cavalry stationed near Hachita, where a number of the invasions by rebels have occurred recently.

Conditions Improving.

Washington, Sept. 6.—So rapidly do conditions change in Mexico that just as Ambassador Wilson, in instructions from the State Department based on appeals from platation and mining interests, whs making a strong demand upon the Mexican government for additional forces in Northern Mexico to protect American interests, the State Department's agents in the latter quarter were reporting a consderable improvement in conditions. Nacozari, a point on the railroad about 100 miles sauth of Douglas, Arizona, has been regarded as the danger spot, so far as foreigners are concerned, for the last three days. But reports to the State Department late today appear to remove any reasonable ground for apprehension, as telegraphic communication beweet Nacozard and Douglas has been restored.

Conditions at Monterey are reported as satisfactory.

Discouraging news comes from the south of Mexico, however, where the wandering rebel bands become bolder in their operations, the entire Federal garrison at Ajuno having been massacred by the rebels last Wednesday.

There is a temporary shortage of infantry in the department of Texas and General Wood was obliged to tell Gen. Steever today, in answer to his appeal for more infantry at El Paso, that he would have to accept cavalry instead.

RALEIGH NEWS NOTES

Governor In Cabarrus—Carolina-V. P. I. Game—Baseball

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 6.—Governor Kitchin went today to Poplar Tent, Cabarrus county, to deliver an address in connection with a big secret order picnic that brings together annually the people of that entire section of country.

Charters were issued today as follows:

The Clinton Lumber Co., Clinton, Sampson county, capital $50,000 by J. A. Vinton, M. H. Jones and others.

The Wilmington Auction and Storage Co., of Wilmington, capital $25,000 authorized and $500 subscribed by L. J. Carter, W. E. Etheridge and others.

The Thomas R. Riley Lumber Co., of Winston-Salem, capital $750,000 by Thos. R. Riley, George W. Hinshaw, Phillip L. Gaspy and others.

The Motor Sales Co., of Raleigh, capital $25,000 authorized and $400 subscribed by D. F. Fort, Jr., T. C. Powell and R. H. Merritt.

The Bryson City Publishing Co., of Bryson City, capital $5,000 authorized and $570 subscribed by A. J. Franklin and others.

The Raleigh Chamber of Commerce is putting forth every effort to secure the annual football game between Carolina and V. P. I. for Raleigh in October. The only chance is to get the gridiron at A. & M. College for the purpose. This was built largely through subscriptions by Raleigh people. However, it is controlled by the college and A. & M. is not on good athletic terms with either Carolina or V. P. I. For this reason it is feared that even after the Chamber of Commerce has gotten permission to tender the A. & M. gridiron for the game the teams may refuse to use the grounds because of the bad feeling between the colleges. It is thought that the game will be either in Winston or Greensboro.

There has been some talk here the past fe wdays of definite effort to get a Carolina League franchise for Raleigh next season. However, those who have been pressing the matter among the possible fans say that it seems impossible to quicken interest to the extent of getting anything like the necessary backing to make a definite proposition to take over either of the available franchises.

As acting chairman, Mr. McAdoo, with his long, lank figure, helps Governor Wilson in keeping the Democratic party nearest to the Lincoln stature. Mr. McAdoo does not weigh anything in particular, but he has driving power.—Springfield Republican.

WILL TAKE PART IN JERSEY FIGHT

Wilson Will Stump State in Opposition to Senator Jas. Smith

RAISING MONEY IN GEORGIA

As a First Step Toward Securing $30,000 for Democratic Campaign Fund $2,216 is Raised at One Meeting

Sea Girt, N. J., Sept. 6.—Gov. Wilson intimated tonight that he probably would take part in the Senatorial fight in New Jersey in which former United States Senator Jas. Smith, Jr., is again a candidate. Two years ago he spoke throughout the State in opposition to Mr. Smith.

In announcing today a list of Western speaking engagements the Governor left but three open dates between now and the New Jersey primaries, September 14th. His attention was called to the fact that if he intended to participate in the Senatorial fight he would have but three days.

"That's enough," he said.

Judge John E. Westcott, who nominated Mr. Wilson at the Baltimore convention and is now a candidate for United States Senator, called today at the Summer capitol. Governor Wilson declared tonight that he understood Judge Westcott would remain in the Senatorial fight. Similar word comes from Representative Wm. Hughes and State Senator Gebhardt, who also are candidates for United States Senator.

Hoke Smith Denounces Teddy

Atlanta, Sept. 6.—As a first step toward securing $30,000, teh amount to be raised as Georgia's share of the Democratic National campaign fund, $2,216 was raised at a meeting of Democrats here tonight. United States Senator Hoke Smith was among the speakers. Referring to Col. Roosevelt, Senator Smith said:

"Good things were said by the Roosevelt regime and bad things were done. He now extends promises of reform to the people with one hand, while with the other he accepts contributions from the special privileges. I would regard his election as the greatest calamity, which, if it proceeded to its natural consequence, would bring about the overthrow of the National government. I do not believe he would leave the White House after again being elected until he was carried out feet foremost."

Of the $30,000 expected from Georgia, Fulton county, including the city of Atlanta, it is stated, will raise $10,000, the smaller counties another $10,000 and the remaining $10,000 to be made up by the other larger counties.

STILL ON DUTY.

National Guardsmen Campt at Michigan Penitentiary.

Jackson, Mich., Sept. 6.—Nearly 300 National Guardsmen were still on duty at the State Penitentiary tonight. Although the convicts have caused no apparent trouble since Tuesday's riot State officials tonight were still silent as to when the troops or part of them are to be removed.

Considerable comment has been aroused by the reported shooting today of John Miller, alleged to have been found near a dynamite magazine which the soldiers have been guarding. A Jackson physician, who declared he attended Miller, stated to the press that the man sustained a deep scalp wound inflicted by a bullet and may die. The officer in command of the soldiers guarding the dynamnit denied that Miller was shot by a militiaman and Adjutant-General Vandercock has ordered an investigation.

Both Gov. Osborn and Warden Simpson today issued statements denying that any convict alleged to have taken part in the recent trouble sustained severe injuries as the result of punisehment inflicted.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 6.—Plans for the funeral of Lieutenant-General MacArthur, who dropped dead while addressing his comrades of the Civil War last night, were completed tonight. The funeral will be held here at 10 o'clock Monday.

Philadelphia, Sept. 6.—New York again won both games of a double header here today, giving them five victories out of six contests in three days in this city. New York won the opener by hitting Rixey's delivery hard in the third and fourth innings Tesreau pitched in grand style and after the game was given credit by the official scorer for a no-hit victory, although previously one hit had been recorded against him. In the first inning, Paskert hit a fly near the plate, for which Merkle and Wilson ran. Each fielder got under the ball. Then fearing a collision they permitted the ball to drop to the ground. After the game the official scorer reversed his decision on the play and decided to cross out the hit for Paskert and give Merkle an error.

The second game was hard fought, each team using three pitchers. New York won in the ninth on an error, two singles and a sacrifice.

New York, Sept. 6—Philadelphia defeated New York again today 4 to 2. McConnell easily outpitched Crabb, but the breaks favored the Athletic pitching recruit. The New Yorks made only two runs on 14 hits, six passes and one error. The visitors won in the ninth when Baker singled and McInnes attemped to sacrifice. Chase threw wild to second to force Baker, and when Lellivelt threw let the throw go through him, Baker scoring and McInnes reaching third. Barry scored McInnes on the squeeze play.

The score was Boston 1; Washington 0. The lone tally came in the sixth inning with two out. Speaker hit into the crowd in left field for two bases. Lewis next up, knocked into right field for a double, a hard fly which Moeller was barely able to touch, Speaker scoring.

Washington had more opportunities to score than Boston, but Wood was at the top of his stride in the pinches, striking out nine men. Johnson fanned five, three of these being consecutive outs in the fifth. The Senators filled the bases, two men being passed, in the third, and Wood fanned Moeller for the third out. BASEBALL AT BRIGADE

Indoor Game Between Two Crack Teams This Evening

There will be a game of indoor baseball this evening at 8 o'clock in the gymnasium of the Boys' Brigade, between the Company C, of the Brigade, and the E. D. S. team. There has always been the keenest rivalry between these two teams, but always of a friendly character. This will be the first time these two teams have been matched against each other this season and the outcome is very doubtful although both teams are counting on victory.

Company C has the strongest team that it ever had and the E. D. S. have strengthened up a great deal and the game will be one worth seeing. The opposing slab artists will be R. Snakenburg for Company C, and C. Shepard for the E. D. S. The line-up is as follows:

Shepard, N.	C	Montgomery
Shepard, C.	P.	Snakenburg
McIntire	1B.	Beach
Morrison	2B.	Register
Hall	3B.	Dickinson
Grant	SS	Palmgreen
Smith	LS	Bell or Futrell

The game will be called at 8 o'clock sharp and the public is cordially invited. As this will be about the last game of the season the attendance will be very large so come early and get your seat. Admission free.

DIVIDED THE DOUBLE-HEADER

Anderson Took First and All-Stars Second Game Yesterday, Each By Score of 4 to 3—Deciding Game Today

Splitting the double-header played at League Park yesterday afternoon, Anderson taking the first game by the score of 4 to 3 and the All-Stars evening up things in the second by reversing the score of the first, the two teams from the Carolina Association playing a post-season series here this week, will face each other this afternoon for the final game of the five, with an equal chance to clinch the honors by winning the deciding game.

Though hardly of the sensational variety, both games yesterday afternoon were interesting throughout, and the crowd did not become in the least bored. In fact, probably more enthusiasm was aroused than at either of the former games of the series. The attendance yesterday was about 500, the best since the games began, but with the outcome of the series depending on today's victory, promising a hard-fought contest from start to finish, it is expected that the Saturday afternoon half holiday crowds will flock to the park and that the attendance will be far better than at any afternoon during the week.

The same batteries performed in both games yesterday afternoon, Ramsey and Milliman doing the honors for Anderson and Eldridge and Stuart presiding for the All-Stars. Both pitchers did good work, though at times the hitting was rather free. However, the good work of the fielders, in and out, offset this to some extent. The second game only went seven innings being called by agreement.

The First Game

Kelly led off for Anderson in the initial game, going out short to first. Laval drew free transportation and appropriated second a moment later. Crompton soared out to deep center and McKoy failed to connect. For the All-Stars Manager Tommie Stouch mauled a hot one to left field for two stations. Haddow bunted to pitcher, and was thrown out at first, and Lister aviated to right field. Stewart slapped the pellet far into deep center for two sacks, scoring Stouch and coming home himself a moment later when the catcher made a bobble on the throw in from Piez's single to left. Piez went to second on the throw in, but expired there when McMillan failed to locate.

In the second Glieschman, for Anderson, went out second to first and Damrau was presented with four wild ones. Owens hit down the third base line scoring Damrau and went to second on the throw in. Milliman hit to center for a single and Owens came home, Milliman advancing one stage on the throw. Ramsey hit to short and beat out a bad throw to first. Kelly hit to pitcher and Milliman was caught between third and home. Laval was an easy out second to first. In the latter half Malcolmson was retired second to first, but Stuart hit to center for a single and advanced to second on center's wild throw to the initial bag. Eldridge went to first on an infield hit to short, Stuart progressing to third. Stouch rapped one to first and was retired, but Stuart came home on the play. Malcolmson, running for Eldridge purloined third, and expired when Haddow went out short to first.

In the third Crompton led off for the Champions by ballooning to deep center. McCoy valiantly missed three, but Gleischman took two bases on a sizzling hit to right, and came home when Damrau pasted the pill down third base line for two more sacks. Owens soared to right. For the All-Stars Lister lifted an easy one to center, and Stewart ingloriously failed to drive one through short, being cut off at first. Piez hit a clean single to left, but was caught napping off first a moment later.

Milliman started the proceedings in the fourth with a beautiful drive to right, netting him two bases. Ramsey sacrificed to first, advancing Milliman to third. Kelly's single to center brought Milliman home, but Laval popped one to third and Kelly was doubled out at second. McMillan went out third to first; Malcolmson soared to right, and Stuart was caught trying to annex second after he had singled to right.

After this inning neither side scored, though the All-Stars missed several good opportunities to tie up the contest. The tabulated score is as follows:

ANDERSON:	A.B.	R.	H.	E.

The Second Game

Kelly, for the Champions, started the unraveling, when he was called safe at first on an error of second and annexed second. The two succeeding batsmen went out second to first, after which McCoy dropped a single to left scoring Kelly. Gleischman aired to second. In the last half after Stouch and Haddow had been retired in quick order Lister hit down right base line for a double. Stewart followed with a single to right, bringing Lister in, and taking up on second on the play. Piez dropped one in the infield and when short threw wild to first he went down to second, Stewart scoring. McMillan flied to short.

The pennant winners were retired in order in the second frame, Malcolmson, for the All-Stars, starting with a double to center. Stuart expired, pitcher to first, and Eldridge pulled off a successful bunt, advancing Malcolmson to third. Eldridge purloined second a moment later and on a throw from pitcher to second, Malcolmson scored, Eldridge ambling on to third. Tommie Stouch fanned.

To start the third, Kelly got on by a fumble of short, but was caught trying to annex second. Laval hit by third for a single and was charged with larceny of second, but the next two victims fanned wildly at Eldridge's twisters. In the second half with one man down, Lister hit to center for two bases. Stewart lined out to short, who covered second and caught Lister off.

The Andersonians annexed another tally in the fourth, when with a man dead, Damrau was safe on an error of short and stole second. Owens singled to right and pilfered second, scoring Damrau. Hogue breezed and Ramsey second man up, moised to first and annexed another one for good measure. Malcolmson singled to short and McMillan was called safe on third. Stuart mauled a long one to right scoring McMillan and advancing Malcolmson to second. Eldridge aviated to right and Stouch singled to left, scoring Malcolmson. Haddow ethered to right.

A neat double prevented the Champs from scoring in the fifth session. Kelly again got on by an error. Laval grounded to short, and a double play, short to second to first, killed both runners. Crompton ambled and went to second on McCoy's single to left. Gielschman grounded to short, who covered second, retiring the side. Another near score was averted in the last half when Lister singled to center and grabbed second. Stewart and Piez struck out, after which McMillan came up with a hit to right, but the side was retired when Lister was run down between third and the home plate.

In the sixth inning Damrau skied to center under the bull's nose. Owens struck out and Milliman singled to left. Ramsey fouled out to third. Malcolmson, for the All-Stars, aired to left; Stewart was safe on an error of first. Eldridge was safe on first, Stuart being nabbed on second. Stouch hit to second who fumbled, ditto with short, who was covering second, both men being safe at their respective domiciles. A moment later, while Haddow was at bat, Stuart was caught trying the pilfering stunt, retiring the side.

The Champs came back in the seventh and final inning, when with two men down Crompton singled to left and went to second when the ball found a hole through second's hands. McCoy got a single socring Crompton, but was caught off second a moment later, ending the game.

The tabulated score follows:

ANDERSON:	A.B.	R.	H.	E.
Kelly, s. s.	4	1	0	3

Anderson	100 100 1—3

The game this afternoon will be called promptly at 3:30 o'clock. Hogue and Milliman will compose the batteries for the Champions and Frey and Malcolmson will do the honors for the Stars. That the game will probably be the hardest fought of the series there is little doubt, for each team is determined to carry off the honors. The contest promises to be a baseball battle worth while. It is expected that a very large attendance will witness the game and the Tidewater Power Company has made ample preparations to furnish car service. The 10 minute schedule between the park and city will be operated. Admission to the game is 25 cents, with 15 cents for the grandstand. Admission for children under 12 is 15 cents.

VALUE OF BASEBALL LEAGUE

Gives City Wide and Favorable Advertisement The Country Over —A Fan Talks to Charlotte News.

Apropo the effort now being made to get Wilmington into league baseball next year, the following from the Charlotte News at the recent close of the Carolina Association series, will be read with interest locally:

The Carolina League baseball season came to a close yesterday afternoon with Anderson, S. C., winning the pennant, Winston-Salem second, and Charlotte third, with Spartanburg, Greensboro and Greenville in the order named.

Of course it is not possible for more than one team to win the flag of championship but each of the five other teams are winners also, winners in the best sort of publicity. One of the backers of one of the leading teams in this year's race said yesterday to ehe Looker-On that if every team in the league lost money this past season every city having a team won many times over the loss in money in publicity all over the United States.

"For instance," he said, "when I am in New York I buy a New York City paper in the morning and find how the teams in the Carolina league played. Hundreds of newspapers carry the reports of the results of games the day before, in all sections of the country, giving each and every city represented in the league advertising which can not be purchased at any price. While Anderson won the pennant this year Winston and Charlotte and Spartanburg and Greensboro and Greenville also won. If you do not believe it point to a single town that has been in a professional baseball league and has failed to maintain its team and allowed it to pass to some other city, and you will loctate a city that has suffered as a result.

"On the other hand, any city that has a team and maintains it even at a financial loss, wins in publicity throughout the country. It is the best sort of advertising for any city. While Anderson is due credit for winning the pennant that city is due more credit for maintaining the team in the fact of comparatively low attendance at the games. The advertising that has come to the city of Anderson through her baseball team this year is worth much more than the amount of money lost by the bolders in the Anderson club."

The fact that the name of Charlotte appears every day in hundreds of newspapers, in the sporting columns is worth money eo this city Time was, years ago, when only the college men and what was then known as the sports read the baseball columns of the newspapers but that time is past and gone and the most substantial captains of industry in the United States are deeply interested in the result of games all over the country. And the town that maintains a baseball team is known throughout the length and breadth of the country as a town inhabited by men of business acumen, by men who realize the advertising value of a thrifty baseball organization.

Tax Assessment Against Southern—Damage Suits Against Seaboard —Tobacco Test Farms— Other News Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 6.—The city of Charlotte recently filed with the Corporaeion Commission as State Tax Corporation Commission as State Tax the Southern Railway Co., owns property in the city of Charlotte worth at least one million dollars and that it was on the tax books assessed at about $112,000, some grossly under assessed and not assessed at all, and asking that the State Tax Commission enter proper assessments.

The Commission today issued an order directing the Mecklenburg county board of equalization to meet September 23rd and enter proper assessment for all this property. Of course, later the State Commission can review and adjust these assessments on petition of the city or the railroad company.

The Corporation Commission issued a call today for seatement of the condition of State, private and savings banks in North Carolina at the close of business September 4th. There are 374 banks subject to this call.

In 1909 the State Department of Agriculture issued a bulletin setting out that North Carolina paid out for farm products that could have been raised in this State, but were ordered from without the State about $60,000,000. A bulletin to be issued within the next few days will show that conditions at this time indicate that the amount paid out this year for produce that should have been grown in the State will be around $39,000,000. This is a reduction of something like 30 per cent and is regarded as a very gratifying showing.

The committee having the matter in charge has under consideration farms offering near Durham, near Oxford, near Roxboro, near Kernersville and near Reidsville to be used as State experiment farms for tobacco culture. Samples of the soil from all these farms are being analyzed and it is expected that the committee will select one of the other of the farms by the first of October. The farm will be purchased by the State Board of Agriculture for tobacco experimental and demonstration purposes for the benefit of the growers in the old bright tobacco belt of the State.

Douglass, Lyon & Douglass, lawyers of the city, brought suit in Moore county court for Miss Willie Pauline Swafford, daughter of S. G. Swafford, against the Seaboard Air Line Railroad Co., for $50,000 damages for indignities Miss Swafford received at the hands of Seaboard employes in the passenger station at Southern Pines May 13th. Her father was section master for the Seaboard and left his daughter, 14 years old, at the station to await a train, asking Station Agent Stultz to look out for her. The complaint charges that during the wait Bill Herring, a negro station hand, urged the most revolting indignities, insisting that he did so at the instance of the station agent. The girl reported the treatment she had received to her father who horsewhipped the negro who admitted the act. The complaint alleges that the Seaboard Air Line Railroad Co., has assumed blame for the offense by refusing to discharge either the negro or the station master who is alleged to have winked at the indignities. Since the alleged crime the girl's father has been dismissed from the Seaboard service.

Sherwood Holland has brought suit in this county against the Durham & South Carolina Railroad Co., for damages for "blacklisting" him as a railroad employe. He was in the service of the Durham & South Carolina as a brakeman, was discharged and went to the Seaboard Air Line. Then the superintendent of the Durham & South Carolina demanded that the Seaboard discharge him, alleging that while with the Durham & South Carolina he bred dissension among employes of the road. He will ask for $10,000 damages. Douglass, Lyon & Douglass being his counsel.

Joseph Drew is suing the Caraleigh Cotton Mills for injuries that cost Dew an arm and is alleged to have affected his mind so that he has lost his mind. The suit is by his next friend, $20,000 being asked.

The Norfolk Southern Railroad Co., is being sued in Wake court for $30,000 damages by Walter G. Ferrebee, of Norfolk, for injuries he received at Wendell as brakeman, June 2nd, when he fell through broken steps of the passenger coach that had been knocked off in some way during the run from Raleigh to Wendell. His arm was crushed, his head scalped and other injuries inflicted.

The Wilmington Auction and Storage Company was chartered today with twenty-five thousand dollars authorized and five hundred subscribed by L. J. Carter, W. E. Etheridge and others.

Ithica, N. Y., Sept. 5.—The local Italian colony claims the champion spaghetti eater of America as the result of a contest held at a picnic to observe St. Agostino's Day. He is Ledando Alessandro, who consumed two pounds of the dish in 18 minutes, without taking a drink of water, Alessandro, who weighs 140 pounds, then entered the pie-eating contest and won prizes.

New York, Sept. 5.—The estate of William Dick, the sugar manufacturer who died here April 5, amounts to $4,000,000, according to an official appraisal filed in the surrogate's office in Brooklyn. Under the will his son and daughter will divide the estate equally between them.

WIRELESS ON RAILWAY.

New Device For Signaling Recently Tested in England.

A new device for railway signalling, called the "railophone," was recently tested at Stratford-on-Avon, England. It consists of a telephone transmitter and a pair of receivers fixed in a sound-proof telephone box in the guard's van and connected with copper coils mounted in a wooden casing and suspended by iron brackets from the coach. The telephone currents produced by the voice of the operator create what is described as a "magnetic field." This field induces—on the wireless principle—an electric current in a metallic conductor, which is buried in the earth by the side of the railway track, and connected with telephonic instruments fixed at stations. Telephonic conversation is thus carried on through the railophone just as through any ordinary telephone.

When the first experiments were made with this device there were no means of "calling up" unless the operator was in attendance. This defect has now been overcome by the introduction of a highly sensitive detector through the aid of which the "electric impulses received on the train are picked up and "relayed" into sufficiently strong currents to ring a bell. In the same way a station can be rung up from a moving train." In the London Pall Mall Gazette it is stated that the inventor claims:

"With the railophone, guard and signalman can communicate with each other, whether the train is in motion or at a standstill, for the purpose of traffic regulation in case of accidents, or during fogs or snow storms, and that messages can be sent with ease and accuracy to and from passengers. * * * The new detector has been adapted for auttomatically stopping a train without the intervention of the guard or driver. By means of appartus provided on the train and in the signal box a remarkable cycle of operations is carried out.

"When a train enters the main section a red lamp is let in the signal box and simulatanecusly a bell is sounded. Should the signalman fail to respond to these signals in ten seconds the lever is pulled automatically into the danger position, rendering it impossible for the section to admit a second train while the first is still there. Until the train has left the section the lever remains electrically locked.

"Under all ordiary crcumstances the red lamp above mentioned is automatically extinguished when the train enters the clearing section and a green lamp is let. The green lamp is also extinguished when the train finally leaves the section. Meanwhile the train itself can receive instructions. In foggy weather, by the addition of a special fog-signaling attachment, the train can be automatically pulled up."

It is also cimed that railophone, messages cannot stray to other trains, and that the system is not influenced by atmospheric disturbances. The tests which were made at Strafford-on-Avon included the sending of messages between a moving train and Stratford Station, the warning of a moving train by audible signal, signaling to a station from a moving train, the stopping of a train in motion and the stopping of a train after it had been allowed to enter a particular section.

The most inspiring trust men can have is that of high privilege. Privilege is a call to responsibility. If this call be unheeded, privilege becomes a destroying angel; if heeded, a crown and a joy.—Bishop Brent.

"KID M'COY" ENRAGED

He Proposes to Sue Belgian Government for $250,000

New York, Sept. 5.—Declaring that his arrest in London was a part of a plot between the Belgian police and the thieves who stole the jewels from the Princess of Thurn and Taxis to allow the real robbers time to escape, Norman Selby, better known as "Kid McCoy," arrived here on board the American liner St. Louis from Southampton today. The former pugilist announced that he intends to bring a suit for $250,000 against the Belgian government for false arrest.

McCoy went to the Waldorf Hotel, but was told that all the accommodations were taken. Then he went to the Lorraine. His wife, he says, was so upset by the affair that she has gone to Paris for her health.

"The Belgian police," said McCoy, "are a lot of 'bone-heads.' They had nothing on me other than that I happened to be living at the same hotel as the Princess in Ostend. When I left for London they got it into their heads that I had made off with the jewels. I was informed by Scotland Yard detectives before leaving London that the jewels had been traced to some one close to the princess' family. I believe that my arrest was just a subterfuge by the police to let the real thieves get away and prevent the discovery of who had the $50,000 worth of jewels."

The former prize fighter delivered a lecture on "Health" to the passengers at the steamship concert Friday night and made a favorable impression. He says he has no plans as to what he will do in the future except that he will remain in America.

Boston, Sept. 5.—A man who declared that the American flag was green, white and blue, and insisted that Theodore Roosevelt was a select man of the town of Denham failed to get his citizenship papers today.

Steamships Run By the Sun.

SCEINCE SOON TO DISPEL DISEASE.

The radient energy falling on the deck of a steamer crossing the ocean—is sufficient, if it could be utilized, to propel the ship with greater speed than is now obtained from coal. Only one-third of the radiation is cut off by the air.

Light has a chemical energy so intense as to destroy micro-organic life. This energy in its different manifestations is a power in continuing life and curing disease. The X-ray which is really concentrated sun light, when applied to some of the less fatal chronic ailments of germ origin has proven very effective as a curative agent. This is the experience of the skilled specialists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute in Buffalo. Although this institution was founded many years ago by Dr. R. V. Pierce as a genuine home —not a hospital—for those afflicted with chronic disease yet it has kept abreast of the times and its trained specialists have become Medical authorities in their various lines.

The violet-ray treatment, another interesting proceeding, is produced by concentrating the light, rich in the violet or chemical rays from an arc light with a specially prepared carbon, upon any portion of the body that may be the seat of pain. Sufferers from neuralgia, sciatica, rheumatism, strains, sprains, also from those obscure exhausting pains (the origin of which cannot at times be accurately determined) frequently find immediate relief from a single treatment and usually with a little persistence in the use of this aid, obtain comfortable health or perfect recovery.

The incandescent light bath, consists of a cabinet in which the patient is bathed in the combined rays of many electric light globes. This treatment has produced really wonderful results is diabetes, sciatica, rheumatism, obesity, anemia, and some forms of kidney and heart trouble. It has also proven valuable in chronic bronchitis, bronchial asthma and various skin diseases. As a general hygienic measure its efficiency can scarcely be over-estimated.

The sick who have been treated at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., have much to say in regard to this wonderfully equipped Sanatarium, where all the above electrical apparatus, as well as electric water baths, Turkish baths, static electric machines, high-frequency current, and other most modern and up-to-date apparatus is used for the cure of chronic diseases. The treatment of chronic diseases that are peculiar to women have for many years been a factor in the cures affected at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute.

The physicians and surgeons employed are among the most experienced and skillful in the country, men who have made these diseases their life study, and whose highest ambition is to excel in their treatment.

How well they have succeeded may be judged from the fact that their practice embraces cases from every State and Territory of the Union as well as from foreign lands. Many thousands are annually treated, either through correspondence or at Dr. Pierce's Institution. It is an old adage that, "Experience makes perfect," and the skilled specialists in this field of practice cure thousands of cases which have been abandoned as incurable by general practitioners. Hundreds are brought to the Institution from far distant states and they go home in a few weeks well and strong. Quite as marvelous are the thousands of cures annually accomplished through correspondence, while the patient remains quietly at home. Others consult in person, and after being examined are provided with specially prepared medicines and return home to carry out the treatment.

In medicine there has been rapid and real progress during recent years, and Dr. Pierce has kept up with the times in that he has had the manufacture and ingredients in his well-known remedies improved in a modern laboratory by skilled chemists, the greatest care being exercised to see that the ingredients entering into his well-known medicines Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery" are extracted from the best variety of native medicinal roots. These are gathered with great care and at the proper season of the year, so that their medicinal properties may be most reliable.

These extracts are then made soluble in pure triple-refined glycerine and bottled.

Everyone who consults the specialists, whether by letter or in person receives the most careful attention.

Great care is exercised not to over encourage those who consult the specialists of this institution that no false hopes may be raised.

Consultation by letter or in person is absolutely free—no charge whatever—so that the public when afflicted are invited to write Dr. Pierce at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Chronic Ulcers Mean Bad Blood

If outside influences were responsible for chronic ulcers, then external applications and simple cleanliness would be a curative treatment. But the trouble is always in the blood which has become unhealthy and diseased, and keeps the sore open by continually discharging into it the impurities and infectious matter with which the circulation is filled. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., may cause the place to scab over temporarily, but the blood is not made purer by such treatment and soon the old inflammation and discharge will return and the sore be as bad or worse than before. Nor will removing the place by surgical operation insure a cure; the cause still remains in the blood and the sore is bound to return. S. S. S. heals old sores by going down into the blood and removing the impurities and germs which are responsible for the place. S. S. S. thoroughly purifies the circulation and in this way destroys the source of every chronic ulcer. In addition to purifying the blood S. S. S. enriches this vital fluid and in every way assists nature in overcoming the bad effects of a chronic ulcer. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Saturday, September 7, 1912.

The attention of our friends is called to the following which has been standing at the head of our editorial columns for some years and which is now the accepted policy of practically every newspaper in the State:

"Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidae and like matter will be charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate * * * except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper."

This rule is not for the creation of revenue but to forestall the clogging the columns of the paper with political communications to the exclusion of legitimate news matter during campaigns.

Don't be long on promises and short on fulfillments.

When the home team loses there's nothing to do but take water."

Stirring the passions of the people is making brau for hatred and strife.

Give the young man a chance for what there is in him or for the purpose of helping him to take a new start.

The man who votes for Wilson will have the satisfaction of having helped to elect the next President of the American Republic.

There seems to be a considerable lot of scrapping in the camp of the scrappers who are to fight the battle of Armageddon. Pish! Tush! Tut-tut!

The New York Press (Rep.) contained this in a head line: "Vermont Result is Bad Beating for Progressives." A crumb of comfort goes a long ways with a standpatter these days.

President Taft is suffering with the gout, but that is not the reason he is not in the running. Even if he has the gout he refuses to give the Third Termer any ground to suspect that he is suffering with "cold feet."

It is pretty tough on the whilom "Respectable Republican" party of North Carolina that the Bull Moose convention at Charlotte slammed the door in the face of one of its most crafty patriarchs. The Bull Moosers saw him first and knew him by his whiskers.

Democrats of North Carolina ought to be more interested in sticking together than in dividing. They have something to stick for and nothing over which to divide. They certainly ought not let a few politicians be the cause of any division. This man or that man is not so important as to cause a row on even the outskirts of the crowd.

"The rival grave diggers" is the subject of a grave and reverential campaign cartoon in the New York World last Thursday. It pictures Roosevelt as digging the grave of the G. O. P. elephant, while President Taft is digging a sepulchral hole for the Bull Moose. Both the rivals are on their jobs, and the sweat is dropping from their brows in great gobs.

Every free man ought to resent the insolence of any party which taxes him to raise revenue for the enrichment of any man, or any corporation, or any trust. Any party which has the nerve to do that makes every man contribute of his labor and his earnings to tariff beneficiaries. Both the Republican and Bull Moose parties are committed to that policy and consequently they should be caught by the throat and put out of business.

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS.

At the request of and under authority of Robert Ewing chairman of the Press Contributions Bureau of the Democratic National Committee, Fifth Avenue Building, New York, the Star will be glad to receive, acknowledge and forward through the proper channels any and all contributions to the Woodrow Wilson Campaign Fund.. These contribtions will be either forwarded direct or through Hon. Josephus Daniels, Raleigh, N. C., National Committeeman from North Carolina and acknowledged also through the Raleigh News and Observer, through which agency Mr. H. C. McQueen, of New Hanover, has already started the contributions from this county with a donation of $10. Other contributions will be acknowledged from day to day in these columns and forwarded promtly without cost to the donor.

"No wonder that public men and political parties often put themselves under monetary obligations to wealthy men and "the interests." The public at large knows that the battle is for their own good, and yet often hesitatesto lend any monetary assistance."

"Having nominated Governor Wilson, shall we leave him embarrassed for necessary campaign funds? And if people at large won't subscribe to pay his campaign expenses (a contest made for them) shall they go unpaid? Or if paid, shall they be paid by rich men, who would at least think they had a claim on the president if he were elected?

"The large use of money by a few rich men or by corporations is the curse of our politics."

GIVE THE YOUNG MAN A CHANCE

Age has very little to do with a man's ability but experience has a great deal to do with his fitness or his unfitness. Some men cannot stand very much experience and their experience is worth really nothing if they do not profit from mistakes or slip the trolley on account of too much experience which comes to men of mature age. After experience, men ought to grow better but most of them get worse, so that after all it depends upon the wisdom, the ability and the moral stamina of a man, old or young, whether he is able to keep in the game.

We say this in order to take the side of the young man, for it is the young man who needs a pat on the shoulder and who should be encouraged to believe in himself and to know what are his possibilities and opportunities, if he is made out of the right stuff and keeps his head level. We take the opportunity to indulge in these reflections, because the staid and able and very highly esteemed Savannah Morning News thus commented a few days ago:

"The youngest mayor in the United States is Joe F. Sullivan, of Imboden, Ark. He is only 21 years old and has been a cripple from paralysis since he was 4. He was editor of a local paper before elected mayor. A mistake is often made in placing men of immature years in positions of responsibility. There is a kind of knowledge which is only gained through the experience which mature years brings."

Of course, age brings experience, but it comes very nearly being true that "an old dog knows the most tricks." If mature men do not learn too many tricks, they can be depended upon, and we fear that it is true of the average man that he cannot stand very much experience. Most of the trouble we are having today are on account of mature men who have had entirely too much experience of a certain kind. We do not want to be understood as saying that maturity is undesirable in men, but we are referring to the "old duffers" who are set in their ways, some of them as devious as an old-fashioned rail fence, sometimes called a "worm fence," in certain portions of Old Georgia.

The mature man who has made good is entitled to honor and we are proud of the achievements of the old guard who have done things, but we want the young men shoved right up to the front where they can get a fair chance. They ought to get their experience early, so that when they are in their prime they won't have to train in to get experience. We are speaking only of young men who have the brains, the courage and the ambition to make men of themselves, and it is just those sort of young men who finally make themselves. We are satisfied they could make more of themselves if they had encouragement early in life instead of having to wage a battle against odds.

The bright, plucky, manly and honest young man is the fellow to take hold of and be given help at a time when he needs it most. It will help him to achieve success and make a man of himself without wearing himself out and often getting discouraged and seized with a case of "cold feet" before he gets to the age when he is the most useful. Not all of them will make good, but most of them will, and a great many more of them would if their elders would only give them a chance. That is what a young fellow wants early and often, A Chance, and there are many ways to give him a chance by encouraging and assisting him in various ways. More young men fail for lack of the elbow touch with veterans than they do because of any fault of their own.

The young man with a good character and a level head is the country's biggest asset. He is full of youth, vigor, energy and ambition, and if he has the stamina and integrity the country will be sure to realize on him as an asset all the earlier if a good strong friend girds him up for the race. No general can win a battle without assistance from other generals, and no young man can be a winner without support in the battle which he faces in life.

At the age of 21 a young man with brains is ready for the battle, and the only way to make him a veteran is to send him right out on the firing line. Put responsibility on him early and he will take a more serious view of life. Place some confidence or trust in him, and nine times out of ten he will fulfill all expectations of him. The young man needs confidence in himself and when we inspire him to believe in himself and to take himself seriously we will help him to make a man of himself before he lies down on the job.

The talented young man who has his ideals set is as ready at 21 to have responsibility placed upon him as he will ever be. It depends altogether upon the man and not upon his age or experience, for many older men may not be his equal in brains or efficiency, even though they may have had years of experience. The element which counts is "the man" that is in a man whether he is 21 or 41. Right now a lot of young fellows, with new ideas and right standards, get right in the race and give us a run for our money or our jobs. All they lack is a chance. All they need is the opportunity. What they need is the responsibility to bring out of them what is in them.

Show the young fellow the switch and he will turn on the current and set all the machinery to whirring. Pay him what he is worth and he will be right on the job. Put responsibility upon him and let him understand that he has a duty to perform and certain promotion if he deserves it. The young man is a power, with his youth, his energy, and his initiative, and when we cultivate his talent, energize his genius, and give rein to his initiative we will make a man of him if "he hath within him the elements that make a man."

DANGER IN CLASS DIVISION.

With all due respect to the now venerable Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, Bleaseism is the cancerous outgrowth of Tillmanism. When politicans, for ambition's sake, array the classes against each other and divide a party into bitter factions, there is a gloomy time ahead for a State's people, who should live in amity.

It is quite true that Senator Tillman has done much for South Carolina in a way and made a National reputation, but it was at the expense of the people of his State. Some of the so-called and well intentioned reforms in the State corrupted its politics, so that in a generation new voters do not take their citizenship so seriously as to realize that their first duty is to their State and to their faction last.

When the State of South Carolina, and its counties and cities went into the whiskey business and the dispensary system was grafted onto the State as a "moral institution" we foresaw what has been the result. It is a pity but it is true that "strong drink is raging" but in politics it is more raging and still more outrageous. The socialistic whiskey business lowered the standard of the State's politicians and citizens, and in the latter days we have seen arise the debauched and unprincipled politician and got a glimpse of the avaracious hand of the grafter reaching out for swag. Indeed the radical reformer must look in dismay upon the fact that time proves that it is less moral for the State to engage in immoral traffic than it is to control it or condemn it utterly. When a remedy is worse than the evil the land mourns.

Blease claims that he is a disciple of Tillman and is carrying out Tillmanism, and in one respect he is, if he still divides the people on bitter factional lines. The factionist is frenzied and blind, and the man who for radical reform purposes or for his own selfish ambition casts firebrands into the midst of the people, does not calculate the sweep of the conflagration he starts.

When the issues are so uncompromising as to bring strife and bitterness into a campaign, or when those who thirst for honor and the gratification of ambition, do not hesitate to set the people by the ears, it means a storing up of trouble for many years to come. New Party alignments are bound to come out of the battles of warring factions, and no man possibly can be a statesman who makes his party take chances on dividing against itself.

Don't forget that your dollar, or more if you are able, is needed right now to help Woodrow Wilson make a successful fight for the people. Don't hold on to your wad till it is too late. Turn it in now. The Star will receive it and send it to the Democratic campaign committee to pay the expenses of the campaign. Men should not forget that they owe a duty to themselves, to their country and to their party in this crisis, involving both principles and self-preservation. The interests shall not win in this fight of the Democracy for the kind of freedom that denies to the two parties of privilege the license to tax the masses to further enrich the bloated beneficiaries of protection.

CURRENT COMMENT.

If Simmons "won't do" why is it that the Wilson campaign managers invited him to New York to consult with them over party plans? Answer, anybody.—Greensboro News (Ind.)

Dr. Thompson was wise enought not to get tangled up in the Republican-Progressive muddle and he declined to be a candidate for governor. We honor his judgment.—Greensboro Record.

Zeb. Vance Walser, nominee of the Third Termer for Governor, says that as Tom Settle referred to Roosevelt as an anarchist that he would see Tom in Hell before he would vote for him for Governor. Pretty hot language for a "Christian Soldier."—Raleigh News and Observer.

Senator Tilman has warned the South Carolina democratic committee to go slow in the mater of declaring Blease's nomination secured by fraud, saying that Blease would run in the general election. But if there was fraud in the nomination, it should be investigated and discounted, no matter what Blease would do. —Raleigh Times.

When Col. Bryan wrote "The First Battle" after the campaign of 1896 he gave much praise to one Marion Butler of North Carolina as one of the great leaders of the cause. Two years later he urged the Democrats of this state to fuse with Butler. The advice was not followed Now. Col Bryan advises the Democrats of this state to defeat Senator Simmons. The advice will not be followed this time. The Butler dose was sufficient. The people in North Carolina know—and they will not forget.—Greensboro News (Ind.)

It must have been very much of a disappointment to the Christian Soldiers to drop Dr. Cyrus Thompson from the head of their ticket. He had also been wanted by the regulars, but while the Mott rules made it impossible for himdo participate in the regular convention, much less to become a candidace on its ticket, he could not bring himself to a severance of the old party ties and could not consistently accept a nomination outside the party. For all that, he retains is loyal admiration for Roosevelt.—Charlotte Observer.

Governor Wilson is going to open the tariff exhibit, which is located at 29 Union Square West, New York City, on the 9th of September. The tariff exhibit, which is under the management of the Wilson League of Independent Voters, promises to be one of the most unique and at the same time instructive, campaign arguments of the 1912 election. Governor Wilson will make the opening speech and, of course, will devote his remarks to the tariff.—Raleigh Times.

Complete returns from Vermont show that the Republican candidate for Governor received 26,259 votes, the Bull Moose candidate 15,800 and the Democratic candidace 20,350. That last-named figure, incidentally, is precisely the number of votes received by Tilden in Vermont in 1876. The comined Republican and Bull Moose vote this year, however, is 2,369 less than Hayes received in 1876. The striking thing about the complete figures is that they show that not only did the Bull Moose candidate draw no votes whatever from the regular Democratic ranks, but that a goodly proportion of the Progressive voters who left the Republican fold went the full length and voted the Democratic ticket.—Baltimore Sun.

ERN WOMEN

Editor Star:—We have ancient authority for the saying that the leopard never changes its spots.

A "close student" of Collier's Weekly, who knows nothing of the slander on the white women of Wilmington uttered by this sheet in 1898, but who has been familiar with its policy for the past ten years, says that no agency in the country has done more to correct wrong-doing or has exhibited more solicitude for the South's welfare, and affects to resent the want of appreciation of this paper because of an editorial written years ago.

"Close student" has made his own premises, and must stand on them.

On February 16th, 1909, a little more than three years ago, the Newbern Lodge of Elks passed a resolution by unanimous vote, which excluded Collier's Weekly from its rooms because of an editorial appearing in that paper October 24th, 1908, or ten years after the slander on the white women of Wilmington, and within the consecrated period of "close student's" adoration. This editorial was directed against the policy of the South to protect its women against the unspeakable crime, and this is an excerpt from it:

"It is well-known that many 'identifications,' are sheer hysteria often for crimes that never were committed, and many other charges and 'identifications' are founded on something worse than hysterical invention; they are the easiest escape from scandal."

Does "close student" think the above a wholesome manifestation of solicitude for the South's welfare?

"Close student," who so enthusiastically endorses the policy of Collier's Weekly for the past ten years, must have been aware of this editorial, and it required no knowledge on his part of the course of this paper in 1908 to cause him to resent its slander on the womanhood of the South in 1908.

A henchman of Collier's Weekly "inebriated by the exuberance of his own verbosity" may uncover his head in honor of this slanderous sheet, but men of Southern blood and sentiment will not accept him as the interpreter of chivalrous devotion to the honor of Southern womanhood.

It is stated on excellent authority that Mr. Kitchin's attention was called to the resolution of the Elks Lodge of Newbern some months ago, and that he has all along known of the slanderous editorial of Collier's Weekly in its issue of October 24th, 1908.

If Collier's Weekly so undervalues the virtue of Southern women it is little wonder that it should oppose a man conspicuous in bringing about conditions for their protection.

Southern men have not become so materialistic as to sacrifice the honor of their women for aid in material development, and have not yet reached the point where they will barter honor for expediency.

On this subject the last word with Southern men is the unswerving determination to protect Southern women; and those of less fortunate worldly possessions—the most helpless—whom the negro editor Manly, and the white editor of Collier's Weekly so outrageously slandered, will ever be the subject of their peculiar solicitude.

"Close student" has been but an indifferent observer of Southern sentiment if he has failed to catch this spirit. J. A. TAYLOR. **

STONE IN KIDNEYS

Physicians Express Wonder After Operation at His Recovery

(Richmond Virginian).

A stone of remarkable size was removed at Johnston-Willis sanitarium yesterday from one of the kidneys of Elias M. Andrews, a prosperous farmer of near Darlington, S. C.

As large as a man's thumb and nearly two inches in length, it excited the wonder of the surgeons and others who examined it, including Dr. Z. G. Smith, of Marion, S. C., who happened to be in the hospital at the time.

Dr. Smith said it was the largest stone of the kind that he had ever seen and he wondered that Mr. Andrews survived long enough to go under the knife here. Dr. Smith returned home last night with his wife, who has been a patient in the hospital for several weeks.

Mr. Andrews was accompanied to Richmond by his son, J. R. Andrews, who expressed himself as more than pleased last night at the result of the operation. He said his father first underwent treatment at a hospital in Florence, S. C.

WOMAN SENT TO THE FARM

Mrs. Lilly Boswell Convicted of Carrying Concealed Weapon—Swift Empie, Ssq., Fined For Contempt—Other Cases.

Mrs. Lilly Boswell, wife of Mr. A. E. Boswell, was sentenced in the Recorder's court yesterday moning to three months on the county farm for carrying a consealed weapon. On a charge of assault wieh a deadly weapon upon her husband, judgment was suspended. A feature of the trial was the fine of $5 for contempt of court, imposed by Recorder Furlong on Swift Empie, Esq., who protested vigorously against the woman's being sent to the farm.

The woman was charged with drawing a pistol on her husband Thursday morning at the end of the Greenfield Park car line, and chasing him around a street car with the gun pointed at him. The couple have been separated for some days, having quarreled over Mr. Boswell's young daughter by a former wife. It was said that the woman told her husband that the child would have to leave home if he expected her to remain, and that he told her she could go, rather than the child. She came to the house Wednesday evening and demanded money, but her husband refused her request, and Thursday morning she made the assault on him with the revolver.

Mr. Empie did not represent the woman, but he arose and made a plea in her behalf, explaining that the law was that a woman could not be convicted of an assault on her husband unless serious injury was inflicted. The Recorder advised the attorney that judgment would be suspended in the case charging her with the assault and announced that he would impose a sentence of three months for corrying a concealed weapon. At this Mr. Empie protested in such vigorous fashion that the court fined him $5 for contempt.

Andrew Jackson, a colored youth, was found guilty of the larceny of a bicycle from E. L. Taylor, white boy. The case was left open for sentence, and the coure intimated that if Jackson would return the wheel his sentence would be made lighter than would otherwise be the case.

Geo White, colored, was in court on a charge of vagrancy. He was sent over to the Clerk of the Superior court for an exmanation to determine his mental condition, it being thought that he is insane.

DR. McCLURE RETURNS.

Delightful Trip North—Back For Winter's Work at St. Andrew's.

Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., the faithful and always popular pastor of Saint Andrews Presbyterian Chucrh, returned yesterday morning from an extension of his vacation for a very pleasant trip North during which he visited old friends in Baltimore, Md., and had the pleasure of spending some time with his son. Alex. M. McClure, Esq., of New York. Dr. McClure was most royallp entertained in Baltimore where he served once as pastor. His visit to New York was to see Mr. Alex. McClure, who will leave shortly for South Africa where he will have charge of an important post for the Yale & Towne people of New York with whom he has been for the past several months. His many Wilmington friends wish for him unbounded success in his new field of endeavor.

Dr. McClure will resume his work at St. Andrew's preaching tomorrow morning at the usual hour. Rev. H. W. Koelling, the assistant pastor, who has served the church most satisfactorily during Dr. McClure's absence will preach at the evening service. Mr. Koelling has made an especially fine impression upon the young people of St. Andrew's and will have charge primarily of the three very successful Presbyterian missions esctablished by Dr. McClure in connection with his work in Wilmington.

Miss Carrie White, who recently resigned as Soprano at St. Andrew's after many years most faithful service, will be succeeded by Mrs. Geo. S. Boylan. She will have charge Sunday as a member of the quartette and the large chcrus choir which is soon to be organized under her direction.

Miss Agnes Chasten, who has just resigned as organist to pursue her musical education North, is succeeded by Miss Julia Post, who will have immediate charge.

Mr. Koelling is a regular licentiate of the church now but will be examined at the Fallsession of Wilmington Presbytery to be held at Clarkton, Sept. 24th, when a date for his ordination, will be arranged.

MR. C. E. JOHNSON NAMED.

Elected Superintendent of Streets Yesterday by City Council.

Mr. C. E. Johnson, who has been acting superintendent of streets for some weeks, was elected at a special meeting of Council yesterday morning as superintendent to fill the unexpired term of the late Capt. R. O. Grant, his salary being fixed at $100 a month, an increase of $25 a month over what he received as acting superintendent, but a decrease of $200 a year from the salary paid Capt. Grant. Mr. Johnson has had considerabel experience in street work in Denver, Col., and other cities and is well qulified for the position to which he was elected yesterday.

The meeting was called for the purpose of electing a superintendent and no other matters were acted upon. Mayor Smith presided with all members in attendance except Councilman Perdew, who is out of the city.

SELLING BEER CHARGED.

Importer Here Arrested Yesterday by County and Police Officers.

August Boecker, white, member of an importing firm with offices in the Southern Building, was arrested yesterday morning by Deputy Sheriff Reynolds on a warrant issued by Justice Harriss charging him with violating the prohibition law. He furnished $200 bond for his appearance before Justice Harriss for the preliminary hearing next Wednesday.

A short while after he was released in the magistrate's court he was arrested by Hall Officer Joe Lane at his office in the Southern Building on two warrants charging violations of the prohibition law. One warrant charged the sale of a crate of beer to Mattie Allen, it being alleged that he received for this the sum of $11, and another charged the sale of two crates of beer to parties unknown, for which he received, it is alleged, the sum of $20. He furnished $200 bond in each case for his appearance before the Recorder this morning.

The officers allege that Boecker had a unique scheme of selling beer. They say he received a cargo of imported beer and would turn it over to the customs officials here. When he made a sale, they alleged he would go the customs house, pay the duty and remove the number of crates wanted. Boecker asserts that he is innocent of any violation of the law.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Children From City Rescued From Drowning at Masonboro.

Master David Brady, son of Mr. R. H. Brady and little Miss Mary Hewlett both of Wilmington had a narrow escape from drowning at Smith's Landing, near Masonboro Sound, Thursday afternoon, being rescued in the nick of time by Mr. H. S. Schwartz, of Wilmington. The children were out with a pinic party from Wilmington.

The lad was in bathing and got beyond his depth. He called for help and steps were taken immediately to go to his assiseance, but before the plans of any of the party could be put into effect little Miss Mary Hewlett, who was near the water, bravely determined to save her companion and ran out in the water as far as she could and then swam out to where the lad was struggling. She is quite a good swimmer and the lad can swim some, but she soon found that she did not have sufficient strength to rescue the excited boy. She was unable to be of any assistance to the lad and both went down twice before Mr. Schwartz could go to their rescue. Both the boy and girl were in rather bad condition as the result of their experience and little Miss Hewlett felt the effects some yesterday morning, but last night she was said to be fully recovered.

M. H. Whipple, white, proprietor of the Queen Theatre at Eighth and Queen streets, waived examination before Justice Harriss yesterday on a charge of nuisance and was sent over to the Recorder's court for trial next Tuesday. He furnished $200 bond for his appearance. It is alleged that the conduct of the patrons of the theatre at late hours of the night renders it impossible for the citizens of the neighborhood to sleep. A similar case against a negro named Johnson, proprietor of a theatre at Seventh and Queen streets, was continued until Tuesday for preliminary hearing before Justice Harriss. Johnson is also out on $200 bond.

LACK OF FRESH AIR

Not One In Hundred Gets Enough, Says Expert

New York, Sept. 5.—"Probably not more than one person in every hundred, taking the country as a whole, gets enough fresh air to ward off the ordinary attacks of dangerous infections and contagious diseases," says Dr. Livingston Farrand, executive secretary of The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, in a statement issued today from the association's headquarters in New York.

"People," continues Dr. Farrant, "fail to get enough fresh air either because their lungs, or other respiratory organs are affected, or, more generally, simply because they do not open the windows and doors. For the former class a physician is needed, but for the latter, plain directions on how to live, work, play and sleep in the open air will do mare than hospitals and rugs.

"To meet the need of this latter group—not especially those who are sick but those who are seemingly well—the National Association has prepared a handbook on 'Fresh Air and How to Use It,' written by our expert Dr. Thomas Spees Carrington. This book is designed to prevent tuberculosis by showing those people who have no trace of the disease how to ward off the attack of consumption by living and sleeping in the open air. Failure to get enough fresh air by working and sleeping in poorly ventilated, overcrowded rooms is one of the most prolific causes of tuberculosis and also of a host of other infectious diseases. This free gift of nature is probably the world's best medicine not only in the treatment, but also in the prevention of disease.

"Our new handbook on this subject, tells how anyone can obtain fresh air in the home, the shop, or the school room at a cost ranging anywhere from $1.00 to $1,000 or more, according to the elaborateness of the equipment desired."

While we cannot afford to distribute the book itself free of charge, we will send to anyone an illustrated synopsis or summary of it, entitled "Directions for Living and Sleeping in the Open Air," on request at our office, 105 East 22nd Street, New York City.

LITTLE NELL WAS ORIGINAL

DeQuincey's "Our Lady of Tears" Did Not Suggest the Character to Dickens.

It is remarked of Charles Dickens that no modern writer was less open to the charge of having received suggestions from the characters and plots of his novels from others than was he, and this for the reason that his plots and characters were chosen, not from books, but from people and incidents in the living world about him. Some time ago, however, an English author thought that he had found in DeQuincey's essay, "Our Lady of Tears," the suggestion for the beautiful pathos of Little Nell, in "The Old Curiosity Shop." A little investigation, however, showed that DeQuincey's essay was published in 1845, while "The Old Curiosity Shop" was published five years before. The extract here given from DeQuincey's essay is interesting:

"The eldest of the three sisters is named Mater Lachrymarum, our Lady of Tears. The sister it is that carries keys more than papal at her girdle, which open every cottage and every palace. She, to my knowledge, sate all last summer by the bedside of the blind beggar, him that so often and so gladly I talked with, whose pious daughter, eight years old, with the sunny countenance, resisted the temptations of play and village mirth, to travel all day long on dusty roads with her afflicted father. For this did God send her a great reward. In the springtime of the year, and whilst yet her own spring was budding. He called her to himself. But her blind father mourns for ever over her; still he dreams at midnight that the little guiding hand is locked within his own, and still he wakens to a darkness that is now within a second and deeper darkness."

HIS RECOVERY WAS SUDDEN

Passes to the Ball Game Worked a Speedy Cure of Mr. Jackson's Ailments.

Dan Lane, the well-known stock broker, and also a director of the Armory club, was commenting on the actions of a fighter in some nearby town. The fighter in question had apparently been all in up to the last round, when he came back and put out his man.

"What do you make of it?" asked the friend.

"It's like a friend of mine named Jackson," replied Mr. Lane. "Jackson's wife had a habit of thinking up little odd jobs for him to do on his day off, so he concocted a scheme by which he should be sick on his day of rest.

"Everything went well until after dinner and he was allowed to stay in bed. Early in the afternoon his wife entered the room and asked him if he didn't feel a little better.

"No," he answered, 'I'm a sick man; too sick to go puttering around the house, putting on screen doors and other such things."

"It isn't that, dear," she replied, "but Jones is out here with two passes for the ball game."

"I, er-er, I am, er, I am feeling a little better," he said, getting out of bed.—Boston Traveler.

JUDGE HELD FOR RECORDER

Probable Cause Found In Slander Case Yesterday—Hearing Was Featured by Warm Spat Between The Attorneys

The preliminary hearing of the case against Matthew Judge, colored, charged with slandering Sadie White, wife of Rev. Geo. L. White, pastor of St. Luke's Methodist church, which was begun Thursday, was concluded yesterday afternoon in the Court House when Justice Harriss, presiding, found probable cause and bound the defendant over to the Recorder's court for Wednesday morning. Bond in the sum of $200 was furnished by the defendant.

A large number of additional witnesses were heard yesterday and the hearing lasted from 3 o'clock until nearly 6. There were several interesting side features in connection with the case, chief among which probably was the tilt between A. G. Ricaud, Esq., of the prosecution, and Woodus Kellum, Esq., counsel for the defense. The spat arose during the examination of Dr. Bowen, colored. Mr. Ricaud objected to the line of testimony being brought out, and the discussion waxed so hot that Mr. Ricaud offered to fight Mr. Kellum in the court room or to go outside and fight it out. Justice Harriss had to warn the attorneys several times that he would fine them for contempt if they persisted in the dispute. Even then, when Mr. Kellum resumed his questioning of the witness, Mr. Ricaud objected strenuously, characterizing Mr. Kellum's method of examining the witness as "infamous and contemptuous." Mr. Kellum resented the language used and Mr. Ricaud again offered to fight Mr. Kellum in the court room or outside, but Justice Harriss declared that they could not settle their personal differences in the court room and that he would not allow the proceedings to be interrupted while they went outside. The matter finally passed off without progressing to the point of an exchange of blows.

Thos. Burnett, colored, who had been summoned as a witness, was not present when his name was called. The court ordered a capias issued and a fine of $25 and costs against him. While the officer was out with the capias Burnett came in. He told the court that he had overslept himself, and for this reason was late. The court accepted his excuse and withdrew the fine, though requiring him to pay the costs.

Judge, the defendant in the case, is also charged with another case of slander and with obtaining money under false pretences. He is out under $100 bond each on these charges and the preliminary hearing will be held when the other case is disposed of in the Recorder's court.

Steamer Wilmington Has Delightful Special Trip for Tomorrow

Five miles to sea to the Black Fish rocks!

That is the special trip fraught with many pleasures offered by Capt. Harper, of the steamer Wilmington, for tomorrow and if the weather is good, a capacity crowd is expected as at no season of the year can the ocean be seen to better advantage than during the month of September. The steamer will stop at Carolina Beach going and coming, so that those who wish to spend the day there may do so as usual. The fare is very low and the steamer leaves the city at 9:30 A. M., returning at 6 P. M.

Found Keg of Whiskey.

Policeman Joe Lane and G. W. Bullard yesterday morning took charge of a keg of whiskey which they located at Seventh and Harnett streets, in the home of a negro there, and for whom no owner could be found. The officers received a telephone call advising them that a fight had occurred in that section, and that someone had left a keg of whiskey in a negro's house. They went there and found the keg. It was addressed to W. H. Stokes, Wilmington, N. C., and contained about 4 7-8 gallons of whiskey. The negro in whose house it was found denied emphatically that it belonged to him and the officers took charge of it and brought it to the City Hall.

Suffered Serious Fall.

Many friends of Mrs. Mary E. Standland, the venerable mother of Messrs H. D. and J. F. Standland, will regret to learn that she had one of her hips badly injured Thursday night as the result of a fall at the home of Mr. J. F. Stanland at Seagate. In rising from a chair in which she was seated on the porch she atempted to steady herself by taking hold of a porch post, but her hand missed the post and she fell heavily to the floor. Dr. Morris M. Caldwell was summoned. He pronounced the injury of serious nature on account of the age of Mrs. Stanland, was is 84 years old. Many friends will hope that her condition will not prove as serious as now appears and that she will soon be in her usual health.

'I'M LITTLE, BUT I'LL TRY"

Brave Child of Section Foreman Saved Train and Set Example for All Others.

She was only seven years old, Eileen Martin, the section foreman's daughter, as she stood reaching up to a telephone at the little town of Alta, Cal., telling the agent at the nearest station that a rail was broken. Childlike, she knew the semaphore signals, had come to the track to see the Overland Limited whirl by and had watched the long finger drop, letting the train into the block.

"I'm pretty little, but I'll try," she said, when the station agent asked her if she could not stop the train that was past him, and started out with her sister of fourteen who had just appeared. They ran down the track, stopped the train and saved a wreck.

Pretty much every primary school in the city ought, within the next week, to hear of Eileen's "I'm pretty little, but I'll try." The alert attention which knew the semaphore signal, the quick wit which understood what a broken rail meant, the decision and initiative which alone sought the telephone, the courage with which she and her sister started up the track, waving their aprons to stop the big Overland Limited as it bore down upon them—these are the qualities which through life bring self-help, for others, success and happiness.

And she was only seven years old, "pretty little," but ready to "try."—Philadelphia Press.

WORKED LONG FOR SUCCESS

Mrs. Stannard Wrote Steadily for Years Before "Bootle's Baby" Made Its Hit.

It is interesting to recall just now that the late Mrs. Stannard, otherwise "John Strange Winter," once described herself as a woman writer but not a "woman's righter." Yet there was certainly no lack of character or brain power about the author of "Bootle's Baby," who was indeed an eminently capable woman with a clear, well-balanced intellect, much robust common sense, and a great capacity for organization, which served her in good stead when she turned from literature to commerce.

Struggling authors may be interested to know that it was only after ten years of incessant work that Mrs. Stannard, who lived to write something like one hundred books, scored her first real success. And even this might not have been achieved but for a little piece of luck, for "Bootle's Baby," the work in question, had then been rejected by six London publishers and cast aside as hopeless. Mrs. Stannard's husband, however, happened to pick up the manuscript one day, read it, liked it, and suggested that he should send it to the Graphic. Mrs. Stannard answered: "Send it anywhere you like," and no one was more astonished than herself when in due course the Graphic took it.—Westminster Gazette.

..Theatrical..

The Academy tonight will offer what is claimed to be the king of all melo-dramas, "Jesses James," and the offering is exceptionally interesting as it will be made at popular prices-seats going only to 50 cents. "Jesse James" is a stirring, novel play, centering around the life and adventures of the notorious outlaw and his equally daring brother, Frank James, and while the piece is what is called a thriller, yet it is decidedly wholesome. It is also alve with fine comedy, which well balances the dramatic, and thus affords and even, finished performance. A cast of excellence, it is said, will be seen in the performance, while the production will be well and correctly made. So lovers of the melodramatic that which is stirring and exciting, yet with a fine comedy vein running throughout the action of the play—are given a tip to see this success at the Academy tonight.

Seats went on sale at Plummer's yesterday and indications point to a large adudience.

Saturday at The Grand.

As usual the Grand Theatre will offer a big bill in the moveys for the week-end and the price will remain as of yore, five cents to any part of the house day or night. For today the topliner will be a sensational drama, "The Whiskey Runners," a Selig in which is given the story of bootlegging in the Northewest territory, and the part which the Royal Northwest mounted police play in same. There is the story of a bright young girl and her lover and the sensational climaxes and beautiful incidents will make this easily one of the most interesting films shown at the Grand in a long time.

The other feature film in "The Trangle," a comedy drama of the Edison manufacture that will prove an able companion piece of the Selig offering for today. This picture tells of a poor workman in a sweat shop, who has lost out but finally meets Mr. Goodfellow and all his troubles end. There is enough comedy to lighten the heavy parts of the play which will be found truly interesting and pleasing. The Grand is always delightfully cool and pleasant and na pains are spared to give every patron his full money's worth.

At The Bijou

Comedy, the pure, wholesome kind, will be on tap at the popular Bijou today and will bubble over. And it is a foregone conclusion, that amusement lovers by the hundred will be there to sip its merriment and wholesomeness. Besides, the Bijou will provide a delightfully comfortable rendezvous away from the heat, and the tiny price of admission will, as ever, be conspicuous, at any and all times. How the Bijou can provide so much joy at such a diminutive price of admission—5 cents—is indeed one of the wonders of the show business.

Heading the great feast of fun today will be a decidedly catchy film called "The Woman Hater." Washbucide has his fortune told and he is destined to marry a blonde. He at once tries to fortify himself against all light-haired femininity, but the way he is finally trapped is a scream, as well as an artistic piece of work.

"The Hindoo's Charm" is another fun novelty today. A jealous wife is given a miniature clay figure by a Hindoo, with instructions to prick it with a pin every time her husband errs and that the husband will feel the sensation. The way the wife jabs the figure is a caution and the different results create howls of rich laughter.

A big educational film is also a star today and it is one of unusual interest, and will profie the onlookers much. It is called "Palestine" and it shows all the notable scenes and furnishes fine information. So it can be seen that today's Bijou bill is going to be a whopper for pleasure.

Tinfluenza.

The tin had crumbled in a gray dust, but the plumber was not in the least nonplused.

"It caught cold," he said. "That's all. Tin is very liable to catch cold if it gets in a temperature under 60 degrees. As a rule it recovers, but a tin cold often turns to influenza, and then the case is hopeless. Nothing can be done. The tin loses its luster, decays, and finally crumbles to a gray powder like this here.

"These tin colds are contagious. A tin dipper will give a cold to a saucepan, and a tincup has been known to contaminate an organ pipe.

"Only pure tin catches cold. For that reason, when tin is to occupy an exposed position or to encounter a low temperature, we alloy it with lead. Only alloyed tin is free from tinfluenza."

Temperatures of Volcanoes.

Scientists have recently secured an accurate measurement of the temperature of boiling lava in a crater. The experiment was a very dangerous one, and it was considered a triumph of precaution no lives were sacrificed in making the test.

The crater of Killauea in Hawaii was selected for examination. The work progressed very slowly. For a long time it was impossible to obtain results, but after several thermometers had been destroyed a pyrometer was substituted to advantage. The temperature recorded was 1,010 degrees centigrade, which is the same as 1,850 degrees Fahrenheit. Iron is still unmelted at this heat, but gold, silver and copper become a molten mass at a lower temperature.—Harper's Weekly.

A House Talk with the Housewife

You and your husband have been talking "home buying" for some time.

You haven't found anything that just suited you.

In some cases the house suited you but the neighborhood was undesirable, or the lot was small, or did not lay well.

Or perhaps the location was bad, from a sanitary standpoint.

You don't want a home in a district so congested or unsanitary that the air is not fit to breathe.

You don't want a boarding house, a store or a factory next door to you, do you?

You don't want your husband to lose a few thousand dollars on a fine home (if you SHOULD want to sell) because some fellow with a little money had built a shack next door to you.

The ONLY WAY to get rid—permanently rid—of these objectionable features is to get your home in a RESTRICTED district.

There are some additional desirable features though which you should INSIST on.

You want a good-sized lot.

You want plenty of room for the children to play in and for the flowers to grow.

You do want a bed of nasturtiums, a clump of roses and the bright row of sweet peas.

You want room for a little vegetable garden all your own.

You do want the freshest air to be had, and pure artesian water free from all malarial and typhoid germs.

You do want a perfect sewerage system that will insure perfect health for your loved ones.

You want a lot that is in line with the city's future development—which is SURE to increase in value with each succeeding year.

You want a location neither too close in to the congested city, nor too far out.

And—above all things else—you want attractive homes and congenial neighbors ALL AROUND YOU.

You do want all these things, and a lot more.

Then THIS is what you ought to do:

Have your husband take you out to Sunset Park—the Sub-Division Beautiful—the Sub-Division that was STARTED RIGHT.

The Greenfield car—new rapid schedule—takes you to the Lake, then it's a short walk of only three blocks down the new Federal Point road to Sunset Park.

You will find there all the good things we have described above — and the many other features you would want.

COTTON MAKES ANOTHER GAIN

An Active Buying Movement in Yesterday's Market Caused Sharp Advance Close Steady, 19 Points Higher.

New York, Sepe. 6.—Apprehensions that the Eastern belt crop was deteriorating rapidly, caused a very active buying movement in the cotton market today, and while part of ehe advance was lost in the later trading, the close was steady at a net gain of from 14 to 19 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 4 to 6 points in response to to disappointment in cables, and reports that Liverpool had been prevented from fully maintaining the gains of yesterday by free offering of actual. Trading was comparatively quiet at the start and early fluctuations were somewhat irregular, but mumerous reports of crop damage from the Eastern belt soon inspired a more general demand, and the market during the middle of the day became very active and excited. Reports of a barometric disturbance in the East Gulf, probably added to the nervousness of the scattering short interest, while there was a good deal of buying attributed to long account on predictions that any serious crop scare might bring in a better demand from spinners. At any rate, prices sold up very rapidly, and before the advance was checked December contracts hadtouched 10.70, while the general list showed a net gain of from 29 to 32 points. Realizing became very heavy at this level and the market subsequently eased off some 14 or 15 points from the best, while trading became much less active during the last hour. Leading spot houses were credited with selling on the advance during the middle of the day.

Receipts 26,105 bales, against 18,356 last week and 26,942 last year; today's receipts at Galveston 20,426 against 16,627 last year; at New Orleans 451 against 810 last year and at Houston 17,229 against 15,012 last year.

Spot closed steady. Middling uplands, 11.75; do. gulf, 12.00; sales, 231 bales.

Futures closed steady.

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW

Advance in Trade Activity is Tenor of Reports

New York, Sept. 6.—R. G. Dun & Company's Weekly review of trade will say:

"Continuous advance in trade activity is the tenor of the reports from the principal manufacturing and distributing centers this week. The advance is both in actual volume of transactions and in confidence. But with this advance there are still certain developments, indicative of passing conditions of depression, coupled with other developments indicative of present optimism. The larger number of August failures, with their heavy aggregate of liabilities, are a legacy of the now-disappearing disturbances and they contrast sharply with the big August bank clearings, which are a development of present activity and buoyancy. Clearings in August gained 4.6 per cent over last year, while during this week they increased 10.5 over 1911 and 17.6 per cent over 1910. The evidence of these clearings is confirmed by the current railroad gross earnings, which show a gain of 6.8 per cent over 1911. The increased confidence in the financial market is illustrated by the fact that the August output of new securities and short-term notes in this country was $92,000,000 greater than a year ago.

There continues an unsual demand for iron and steel for this season of the year. Buying in some directions has been checked by the material advance in prices, yet the amount of business in prospect aggregates a heavy tonnage.

THE WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

Prices Have Been Irregular and Have Shown Firmness Owing to Hot-Dry Weather—Various Crop Outlooks.

New Yor, Sept. 6.—Prices have been irregular, but latterly have shown considerable firmness, owing to hot, dry weather in the Atlantic and Eastern Gulf sections, as well as in Texas. These reports have been accompanied by many complaints of rust and shedding, especially in Georiga, though also to some extent in South Carolina. Deterioration has also been reported in Texas. At the same time, the crop, as a whole, is said to be two to three weeks and even in some cases, four weeks late. In such circumstances the kind of weather that is experienced in September is considered especially important. In fact, it is contended that ehe weather this month must be practically perfect or tlse the crop is likely to be seriously injured. The next thing on the carpet will be frost date. It was noticed on Thursday that heavy frose occurred in the Far West and Northwest and some veteran traders were apprehensive test frost, or at any rate verey low temperatures might pust down into the Southwestern cotton fields. Recently Texas has had temperatures of 100 to 103 degreees, though on Thursday the weather in tsat State had been to cool down. The weakly report stated that the recent temperatures in the belt generally had been anywhere from 2 to 8 degrees above normal, while the rainfall had been noticeably below normal.

At the same time Manchester has reported a better demand for both cloths and yarns. The state of cotton goods business on this side of the water is also generally favorable. Stocks of American cotton goods in China are said to be relatively small. Many here contend that the crop has been overestimated and the consumption under-estimated. It turns out that the last crop was 16,501,000 bales of which 16,138,000 bales came to market. Hester's figures on the consumtion were a surprise and have given no slight encouragement to the believers in better prices, showing as they did that it was 14,515,000 bales the largest on record. The bearisx argument is that this crop is going to be far beyond the requirements of the trade if allowances are made for a large surplus carried over from last season, and the fact that many European spinners have good stocks of raw material and in some cases bought last season at least a portion of their requirements for some years to come. Also the Egyptian and East Indian crops this year are expected to be large, so that Europe may not take nearly so much American cotton this season as it did during the season just ended. The big receipts at Texas points are regarded by bears as a plain hint that Texas has raised a big crop. Late in the week cooler weather in the Atlantic States, selling by Waldorf interests and a good deal of selling also by large spot houses gave prices something of a set-back. It is more of a one sided affair, however, than it was recently. But on Friday reports of steady deterioration, not only in Atlatic States, but in some parts of Texas, owing to hot dry weather, caused another advance.

STOCK SPECIALTIES ACTIVE

Virtually No Change in Most Other Securities of Speculative Importance—The Fertilizer Stocks Advanced.

New York, Sept. 6.—The movement of stocks today ran largely to specialties with virtually no change in most other securieies of speculative imporanse. There was at times, however, some pressure upon Lehigh Valley and Canadian Pacific, while othe high grade railway ssares failed to move beyond fractional limits and U. S. Steel and the coppers were little more than steady.

Some diversion was again furnished by the tobacco group. The gyrations of these issues, however, failed to excite more than passing attenion. The fertilizer stocks, notably American Cotton Oil made smart advances, largely as a result of cotton crop prospects, while both U. S. Steel and Republic Iron were strong to the accompaniment of another upward revision in the schedule of finished iron and steel.

Among the less conspicuous specialties National Biscuit, Central Leather, common and pfd. and American linseed, pfd. rose from 1 to 2 points.

Over 50 per cent, of the day's light business was transacted in the first hour, the balance of the session, especially the last two hours, being characterized by absolute inertia and another advance in call money to 4 per cent, the high price of the previous two days.

The tone of the market at the close was heavy.

Forecasts poin to a cash loss by the banks of only $2,300,000 as against yesterday's estimate of almost double that amount.

New York City 4's again sold under par, with a lower tendency in other issues. Total sales par value were $2,605,000. U. S. Government bonds were unchanged on call. Sles 252,000 including C. & O. 1,000; L. & N. 300; N. & W. 500; Reading 28,300; S. A. L. 300; pfd. 100; Southern 1,100; pfd. 100; Tennessee Copper 3,300; Va. C. C. 3,700.

Many Driven From Home

Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there, with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. Its help in coughs, colds, grip, croup, whooping cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by H. R. Bellamy.

As between Wilson and Roosevelt the average Republican would prefer the former. Not that Wilson represents Republican principles, but he represents them as much as Roosevelt does, and as between the two men he is much preferable to Roosevelt. Under no circumstances will a real Republican cast his vote for the deserter who is openly doing his utmost to defeat and utterly destroy the Republican party.—Kansas City Journal.

FORESTERS NOTES IN EUROPE

Good Roads as Part of Forestry—Prevention of Railroad Fires — Foundations for Next Crop —Other Observations

(As stated in a previous Press Bulletin, the Forester of the North Carolina Geological and Economic Survey, Mr. J. S. Holmes, is in Europe studying forest conditions. He is noting the particular points of interest in connection with forestry methods in the countries visited and is sending back from time to time these notes for publication. The notes relating to France and Switzerland have already been given. In this issue are given some notes from Germany.)

Good Roads As a Part of Forestry

Perhaps the thing that strikes one most forcibly in visiting the German forests—for that matter, nearly all the forests of Europe—is the ease with which the forest products are transported from where they are cut to market. A network of first-class roads and trails seems to the Germans to be as essential to a well-managed forest as the trees themselves. This is especially noticeable in the Black Forest because of the rough nature of the country and the large size of the timber produced.

The Black Forest is not, as might be supposed, an unbroken stretch of woodland, but is a mountain region very similar to our own western North Carolina mountains, extending for 80 or 100 miles north and south and 40 or 50 miles east and west along the southern border of Germany. The valleys are cleared up and devoted to agriculture, while the slopes and tops of the mountains, comprising from 50 to 75 per cent of the area, are kept in forest growth. The elevations vary much as with us, from one thousand to four or five thousand feet. Winding through all the valleys are first-class surfaced (usually macadam) roads, which are used by the general public as well as by the forest administration. Because these roads make beautiful scenery, excellent fishing, fine climate, and many other attractions accessible, the region is thronged, both Winter and Summer, with tourists and other visitors, which is of great advantage to the local farmers. Forest roads which is of great advantage to the local farmers. Forest roads surfaced with rock penetrate all the small coves and wind around the slopes, making all the timber easily accessible. From these first-class wagon roads steeper skid or slide roads—often very steep—down which the timber is pulled by oxen or horses, lead to the more inaccessible places.

Fir and spruce are the principal timber trees as in our own higher mountains. They grow, however, to much larger sizes than with us and form much more continuous forests.

In cutting, the logs are usually left the full length of the tree, and are hauled out in this form. Three or four sticks of timber from 80 to 100 feet in length are often put on one wagon. If the trees are cut into shorter lengths, which is occasionally done toavoid defects in the tree and increase the sale value of the timber, the wagons are piled high up with these shorter logs. It is a sight never to be forgotten to see these enormous trees being brought along the excellent roads to the railway. High prices are obtained for these long sticks of timber, which are mostly shipped by rail to the seacoast, where they are used for piles in constructing piers and docks. It would be impossible to get this timber out without the well-graded and surfaced roads, so that the good prices depend in large part upon the road facilities.

All road construction and other forest improvements are made with the idea of permanence, for though over there they do not expect to produce a mature forest in less than 80 to 100 years, and often plan to market it at 150 years old, still they know that the roads will be needed at intervals to remove thinnings, and will be absolutely essential when the mature timber is cut.

Unlike the forests of the plain, scarcely and clear cutting is practiced, the idea being to treat the forests in such a way that they will reproduce themselves naturally. A form of the selection system is used and cutttings extend over long periods. For this reason the roads are rarely unused.

It is this method of management which has been advocated for our North Carolina forests. By first of all thinning out the least valuable species and the trees that are not likely to reach maturity, or if they do, will not bring good prices, and then by cutting the remainder of the forest gradually so that a second crop can be assured, the forest cover can be maintained and the greatest advantage to our stream, our industries, and to the owners of the forests themselves, will be secured. Good and permanent roads must be just as much a part of effective forest management with us as they are in Germany, and all owners of forest land should be good roads enthusiasts.

Securing the Foundation of the Next Crop

We in North Carolina think so little about the next crop of timber that it is hard to understand and appreciate the care and money expended by by the German forester in securing a full stand of the best species on land which is to yield a crop of timber in 80, 100, or 120 years time, long after even the youngest forester now living has passed away.

But the German foresters know from what they see around them and from the teaching of their practical as well as scientific men that in order to accomplish certain results certain steps must be taken: that in order to secure a full crop of valuable timber a full stand of the most suitable species must be secured; the young trees must be given the best possible opportunity by keeping down the inferior species; afterwards thinning must be made at intervals so that the trees will grow to the best advantage, and during all this time the trees have to be protected from game, fungus diseases, insects, and fire. The forester looks upon each of these as separate operations, to be carried out to the very best of his ability, and that when it is, that task is accomplished. In a way he does not feel responsible for final results, but he does feel responsible for the part which he has to do in bringing about the results.

From what one sees in the forests of Prussia, it is obvious that the securing of a satisfactory stand is considered by far the most important operation in forestry practice, and the forester who can look back after a lifetime of effort and say that the forest under his charge has as good a stand—necessarily of varying ages—as can be got, has no cause to regret that he can not see harvested the forest which he has planted.

During two excursions made under the courteous guidance of two prominent Prussian foresters, many different examples of the intense care of the young stand were seen.

Beech and pine forests were being gradually thinned out, the felling extending over a great many years in order to get as much natural reproduction as possible. In many places the ground under the trees was turned up with plows, harrows, or hoes, in order to make the soil as favorable to the growth of the seeds as possible. Where an insufficient number of seedlings had come naturally, planting had been done either in groups or larger continuous areas.

Planting in rows is usually preceded by throwing back the top soil, either turf or humus, with spade or plow, which brings the plants in contact with the mineral soil. Where insects attack the young plants, traps are laid for them, either by laying blocks of wood in shallow trenches for the insects to go under or digging deeper trenches round or through the areas with occasionally deeper places in which the beetles get caught.

Where grass or weeds are bad the planted seedlings have to be hoed, and in many places women were seen at this work. Often the grass or sprouts in the walks have to be cut with scythe or brush hook. Where transplanted trees have died they are replaced by ones of the same size and it is not till the trees grow together and form a perfect cover that the forester considers his task of securing a new stand complete.

How different this from our haphazard methods or more usually our utter indifference to the matter. We can not, perhaps, under present conditions, afford to spend as much on reproducing the forest as the European foresters do, nor need we. All our hardwood forests and most of our pine forests will reproduce themselves naturally if fires are kept out and cutting done with proper care, and yet yearly all over North Carolina these simple precautions are absolutely neglected. Surely here we can learn a lesson from Germany.

Prevention of Railroad Fires

The problem of protecting our forests from fires set by the railroads, which comprise from 20 to 30 per sent of the total annual number of fires in North Carolina, will undoubtedly come before the Legislature next Winter, so that a German example of railroad fire protection may be of interest and possible assistance to North Carolinians at this time.

In Prussia large areas of poor rolling sandy land, such as are so common throughout our coastal plain region, have been planted to forest trees, and pine forests with trees of varying sizes are common. Where the railroads pass through or by these forests, very effective fire lines are found, the railroad department and the forest administration co-operating in their construction and maintenance.

These fire lines are made in the following way: About 30 feet from the track is a trench five feet wide, from one to three feet deep, deep enough to get to the sub soil, so that grass or weeds will not grow in it. At a distance of another 30 feet from the first trench is a second one about 12 feet wide, but shallower, sometimes only just plowed up to prevent grass and leaves growing and accumulating. In young stands, where special precautions are needed, a third trench is made about 40 feet farther from the line. These trenches or lines are connected by cross trenches four to five feet wide and a few inches deep every 30 to 60 feet along the line. All these trenches are constructed and kept clear of grass and weeds with plow, hoe, and shovel, by the railroad authorities.

But in order to prevent the sparks being driven beyond the fire lines and at the same time utilize all the ground to the best advantage, all the space between the trenches is planted to trees and managed much like the rest of the forest, and this is the part done by the forest authorities or in other words, by the owners of the land. The land owner expects to be reimbursed to a large extent by the value of the timber grown on the land, while the railroad reaps its benefit in its freedom from damage suits.

North Carolina has got to have better protection for its forests, and the people, as well as those who are to represent them in the next Legislature, will do well to consider how these same problems are dealt with in more distant countries, and even in other States.

BUSINESS IS THEIR LIFE

Thousands of American Men Seem to Be Wholly Uninterested in Their Wives.

There are thousands of American men who are merely indifferent to their women. They are proud of them, but supremely uninterested, and ask of their wives only to be let alone. Their buisness is their life; it is their life after they are married just as it was before. They are playing a tremendous game, and in this country a man has got to win or go to the wall. It makes no difference whether a man is married or a bachelor; it is not the women of the country who determine if a man must work at the great rate of speed at which they labor—it is the pace of the country itself which demands it. Our men give generously and indulgently to their women folks; they like to see that they have "everything in the world," as the saying is. It pleases their vanity to see their houses well-appointed and their women well dressed; they like the luxury of it for themselves. What is to be expected of young girls whose fathers have had no influence in their bringing-up, but have merely paid the bills—young girls, who have never been taught the use of money nor any details of any business whatsoever, and whose whole duty in life is to dress with the extreme perfection of which our women are past masters, and to keep in good physical condition and talk amusingly? These are the prices of success, success being measured in this country, as elsewhere, in terms of marriage and attention.—Woman's Home Companion.

WHAT WE OWE TO WOMEN

Ever They Have Been the Makers of the Home and Providers of Comfort.

Social progress with primitive women was stimulated and encouraged by their relation to home life, to dress and to manners. We have already alluded to the women as the authors of the home or shelter. It is the female bird that makes the nest, the female mammal that digs the burrow for her young and the female bee that makes the honeycomb as a home for hers. The human female more than all the rest created her home. But not only is this true, but she differentiated the home, and all parts of the most elaborate establishment were instituted by her or on her account.

The first homes were cheerless caves. Fire could not be made in them because of the smoke, so women sought out a cave with an opening in the rear, or a rock shelter with a high curved roof. When she became a dweller in a tent she searched for the oldest wood, learned the mysteries of the fuel problem and even invented the coral to induce the wind to draw a little of the smoke therefrom and to increase her comfort.

To the women of the household we are indebted for the oven, the chimney and the chimney corner, the kitchen, the dining room, the family room, the separate bed chamber. It has been a wonderful evolution, resulting in comfort, taste and morality. —Otis T. Mason, "Woman's Part in Primitive Civilization."

Black and White vs. White and Black.

For many years a large department store has spent thousands of dollars on placards with which almost every article of merchandise is ticketed throughout the store, and only within a short time did they realize the amount of money that was being wasted in using the white cardboard with black lettering.

These white cards soon became soiled and shop worn if allowed to remain in place any length of time. The cards which are handled by customers in bins, trays, etc., are even more so. By substituting the black cardboard with white lettering this store has overcome this difficulty to a very great extent. The show cards are always clean, fresh and bright-looking and they last many times as long, saving the firm several hundred dollars in the course of a year.—Business.

"Grandfather" Clock 200 Years Old.

A remarkable hand made clock is in the possession of the Swedish Lutheran Orphanage at Avon, Mass. It is one of the old "grandfather" type and consists of 13,000 pieces. It was made about 200 years ago by Henry Haven and is still running. The works are of wood, the case a handsome checkerboard of inlay work, the material mahogany and white boxwood. Henry Haven was several years completing it. Two heavy weights and two bob weights are the only metal in the works. The clock was in the possession of the Blanchase estate of Avon for generations. When the property was sold for a Swedish orphanage the clock went with other furniture to the new owner.

Big Trade in Frozen Meat.

Argentina supplies 90 per cent. of the frozen beef and frozen mutton consumed in Sheffield, England. Australia and New Zealand provide the remainder. Its use is constantly increasing. Frozen meat is never sawed, but it chopped with a cleaver. The retailers receive the meat in quarters which they chop into angular blocks, from which the quantities desired by customers are cut. These blocks afford material for fine window displays, and the windows of frozenmeat shops are generally piled high with all sizes and shapes of solid red beef.

During courtship itis possible for a man to write more in a love letter in five minutes than he can explain in five years after marriage.
